

"My Credit Union Story"

I have a story to relate that, I think, shows the care and compassion of the Credit Union's employees.

Years ago, I had to deposit a check by the end of the business day. Not being sure of the closing time, I called the credit union from my cell phone to get the hours of operation. Obviously, I was paying more attention to the phone call than my driving and I was involved in an auto accident while on the phone with the Teller. She acted with such compassion -- asking me if I was ok.

That attitude is why I am still a member of your credit union to this day.
